

The image shows a worksheet for a matching exercise. At the top, there is a blue header with a photograph of a child's face. Below the header, on the left, is a yellow box with the text "Das muss mit" in blue. The main body of the worksheet is light green and contains two large, vertical rectangular areas with green dotted borders. Each area has 20 horizontal lines for writing. To the right of each writing area is a vertical column of 20 small green squares, intended for marking matches. At the bottom of the page is a solid green footer.
